1. INTRODUCTION

- 1.1. The following requirements and procedures derive their force primarily from the University's own Principles and Regulations. In some cases, however, regulations derive from UCAS rules, from guidelines set out by the Department for Education and Teaching Regulation Agency and the Nursing and Midwifery Council, from the European Parliament directive in respect of distance contracts (97/7/EC), and the Advertising Standards Authority (ASA). Any member of staff, academic or administrative, engaged in the recruitment or admission of students to the University, is required to recognise and adhere to the procedures set out in this handbook. Throughout the handbook, where appropriate, the relevant University regulation will appear in brackets after regulatory procedures, for reference.

- 1.2. In accordance with the statement set out in Section E1.2 of the Principles and Regulations, the University is committed to the active promotion of equality of opportunity, and aims to ensure that all applicants are treated solely on the basis of their aptitude, ability and potential to pursue a modes and forms of study. The University will ensure that no one will be disadvantaged or discriminated against on the grounds of sex, age, marital or parental status, sexual orientation, racial group, creed, or socio-economic background. It also aims to ensure that disabled people, or those with specific needs, do not suffer unfair discrimination and are enabled to achieve their full potential. The University also seeks actively to increase levels of recruitment from groups currently under-represented in higher education and aims to offer educational opportunities to those members of the community who are capable of benefiting from them.

Since the procedures for admission to programmes of study with different qualifications aims vary considerably, the handbook has been organised, in the first instance, by qualification aim, and then by comprehensive themes that are relevant to all qualification aims.

2. REQUIREMENTS GOVERNING MARKETING AND RECRUITMENT

- 2.1. The University's marketing strategy is informed by its strong commitment to advice and guidance, and reflects the University's mission statement and widening participation strategy (both of which can be found in full on Portal). All advertising and marketing materials must be informative, unequivocal, and free from stereotyping.
- 2.2. The production of all institutional promotional material pertaining to programmes of study is the responsibility of the Director of the Marketing, Recruitment and Admissions Service, through the Marketing Communications Manager for all paper-based materials and for electronic information. The Marketing Communications Manager is also responsible for maintaining a consistent corporate image across all such material, and for ensuring its accuracy, accessibility, and timely production.
- 2.3. The content of all such materials must be precise, explicit and clear. Promotional literature, in either paper or electronic form, may not be disseminated to the public unless it has been endorsed, prior to production, by the University's marketing team. Departments and programme leaders may not produce publicity materials, neither electronic nor paper based, without the consent and approval of the University's marketing team.
- 2.4. Electronic or paper-based marketing information, provided at a distance, should be clear both about the nature of the provision, and the supplier (97/7/EC: 11). Clients must be notified within 30 days if the course for which they have received an offer has been withdrawn (97/7/EC: article 7).
- 2.5. Open days, Interview and Experience days and off-campus recruitment events are the responsibility of the University's Marketing, Recruitment and Admissions Service Marketing Manager, working to the Service's Deputy Director with responsibility for Marketing and Recruitment. Schools and College's Liaison and other aspiration-raising events are the responsibility of the Marketing, Recruitment and Admissions Outreach Manager, working to the Service's Deputy Director with responsibility for Admissions and Outreach.
- 2.6. It is a requirement of Executive Deans of Faculty or their associates, heads of subject and programme leaders that they consult with the University's marketing and recruitment staff in matters relating to the publication of promotional and advertising material, and admissions staff in relation to the setting of course entry requirements.

3. RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE IMPLEMENTATION OF THE REQUIREMENTS FOR THE PROCESS OF ADMITTING STUDENTS

- 3.1. The University's admissions procedures are centrally administered. The Director of the Marketing, Recruitment and Admissions Service shall be responsible for overseeing the quality assurance of all admissions procedures, and for ensuring that academic colleagues are aware of the requirements and their proper implementation.
- 3.2. The Deputy Director of the Marketing, Recruitment and Admissions Service shall be responsible for the operational oversight of all admissions procedures, and shall be charged with the responsibility for ensuring that all admissions staff are cognisant of the requirements, and for their appropriate and timely staff development arrangements in the light of changes and developments.
- 3.3. With the exception of those identified in paras. 4, 5 and 6 below, the Deputy Director and a team of dedicated Admissions staff shall make the final decisions on all applications to University programmes, in the light of the University's stated entry criteria and the availability of places.
- 3.4. The interviewing tutors shall be responsible for making decisions on all applications to Health and Social Care and ITT programmes. In some cases, however, the decision not to interview may be taken by the Senior Assistant Registrars (Health and Social Care Admissions / Undergraduate Admissions), based on the University's stated entry criteria.
- 3.5. The Work-Based and Integrative Studies Programme Leaders shall be responsible for the final decision on all applications to WBIS programmes.
- 3.6. Heads of academic departments shall be responsible for ensuring that all academic staff involved in the admissions process are equipped with a copy of this Admissions Handbook, and that they fully understand the procedures, requirements and regulations to which they pertain.
- 3.7. Each Faculty Credit Co-ordinator is responsible for awarding, or refusing, credit exemption. Recommendations made for credit exemption are regarded as final. The responsibility for initiating applicant requests to the Faculty Credit Co-ordinator for APCL/APEL shall lie with the member of staff responsible for making the initial offer. For full-time and part-time undergraduate applicants, this shall be the responsibility of Undergraduate Admissions staff. For Nursing, Midwifery and Social Work, the responsibility shall lie with Health & Social Care Admissions staff.

For all other programmes of study, the responsibility shall lie with the programme leader.

- 3.8. Programme leaders and admissions staff responsible for making offers are required to complete an Admissions Equivalence Form for applicants who do not meet the University's stated entry criteria, but to whom an offer is being made. - 16.1. Applicants shall normally have, or expect to obtain, at least an upper second class Honours degree in a discipline appropriate to their intended area of research, or a lower second class Honours degree plus a Masters degree. Substantial prior research experience may, in some instances, be acceptable in place of an appropriate degree qualification. Applicants shall also satisfy the requirements for English Language, where English is not their first language (either IELTS 6.5 or IELTS 7.0 with no less than 5.5/6.0 in any band is the minimum requirement).
- 16.2. Initial enquiries received directly by Postgraduate Admissions shall be referred to the appropriate academic department in order to establish whether appropriate expertise exists within the University to supervise the proposed project prior to application. An outline proposal is usually required at this stage. A more detailed proposal may be required on application. Applications are submitted online. Paper application forms are no longer issued or considered, except in cases where an online application would be impossible for the candidate to complete.
- 16.3. A completed application, two references (in most cases the references shall come from independent academic referees, i.e. they are not normally provided by a prospective supervisor), an up-to-date CV and copies of appropriate certificates or transcripts must be uploaded to the application in order to be considered. Applicants who do not fulfil the normal entry criteria may be required to provide additional information and documentation in support of their application.
- 16.4 All applicants shall be interviewed and a record kept of the interview, which shall be uploaded to the online application. Telephone interviews may be acceptable where the candidate is unable to attend for good reason. Postgraduate Admissions shall take into account the period of completed study in calculating the earliest and latest possible submission deadlines, and will include this information in the offer letter. The maximum period of elapsed time from first registration would refer to the date of first registration at the other institution. Any training undertaken at the other institution may also be taken into account in determining which elements of the University of Chester training programme will be considered as complete.

- 16.6. Once the applicant's application is complete, Postgraduate Admissions shall prepare and send out offer letters. The offer letter shall detail the terms of registration, supervisory team, and fees for the first year. If the decision is to reject the application, Postgraduate Admissions shall inform the student of this decision in writing together with the reasons for the rejection.
- 16.7. Following the acceptance of an offer, students admitted must re-register on an annual basis. A student's eligibility to register will be contingent upon completion of the Annual Progress Report detailed in Handbook G.

- 17.3. A completed application, two references (in most cases the references shall come from independent academic referees, i.e. they are not normally provided by a prospective supervisor), an up-to-date CV and copies of appropriate certificates or transcripts must be uploaded to the application in order to be considered. 19. REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION TO THE FRAMEWORK FOR WORK- BASED AND INTEGRATIVE STUDIES

- 19.1. It is the responsibility of the Senior Assistant Registrar Undergraduate Admissions and the Postgraduate Admissions Manager to oversee the admission of prospective undergraduate and postgraduate applicants to work-based and integrative studies programmes. Details of all initial enquiries and applications shall be forwarded to the relevant Admissions Section from the Professional Development Unit within the Faculty of Business, Enterprise and Lifelong Learning.
- 19.2. The WBIS Programme Leaders shall be responsible for making decisions on admission, for assisting the applicant to select a negotiated learning pathway, and for advising the applicant on submission of APCL/APEL requests to the Faculty Academic Assessor (if appropriate). (Please see Section 12 of the Assessment Handbook).
- 19.3. Where formal entry criteria (e.g. A Level, Foundation degree) do not apply, entry shall be determined in relation to the level and extent of professional responsibility and experience of the applicant. Prior to acceptance, all applicants shall be offered an advisory interview through which an assessment of their potential to engage with – and benefit from – a WBIS programme of study will be made and, if accepted, the level of study at which they will enter shall be determined wherever possible. If the academic level at which a student should initially pursue their WBIS study can only be ascertained during their diagnostic first module (most typically – though not exclusively – Self Review and Negotiation of Learning) then they shall normally be registered initially at undergraduate Level 4 and then, if necessary, re-registered at the appropriate level before submitting for any academic credit.
- 19.4. Applicants undertaking study at Level 7 must have a first degree in any discipline together with requisite professional experience. In certain circumstances, applicants without a first degree but with exceptional and high-level professional responsibility and experience may be admitted directly to Level 7 study on the provision of evidence demonstrating their capability of study at this level. This shall typically take the form of an interview.
- 19.5. Where an applicant seeks entry to postgraduate study without professional experience a first degree normally achieved at second class honours or above will be a requirement.

- 19.6. Students will also be encouraged, if appropriate, to seek credit for prior learning (including prior experiential learning), this process typically being facilitated by the Self Review and Negotiation of Learning module.
- 19.7. The Professional Development Unit shall forward the applicant's completed application form to the Admissions Section. The Senior Assistant Registrar for Undergraduate Admissions and the Postgraduate Admissions Manager shall be responsible for overseeing the inputting of student details onto the student records system, and the Admissions Section shall contact those students who have not returned the appropriate documentation. The relevant Admissions Section shall inform the Professional Development Unit of all firm acceptances.
- 19.8. The University's Disability & Inclusion Team shall be informed of all applications received from applicants who have declared a disability.
- 19.9. The Professional Development Unit and Student Programmes (Registry Services) shall be responsible for checking completed online module registrations against the student's Pathway Learning Agreement, and for ensuring that applicants are appropriately enrolling for Self-Review and Negotiation of Learning.
- 19.10. Induction information shall be sent to all applicants, and shall include a copy of the WBIS Programme Handbook and Self-Review and Negotiation of Learning Module Handbook.
- 19.11. Entry for WBIS students being facilitated via co-delivery with Associate Tutors – this will be as outlined above for both undergraduate and postgraduate applications, though Associate Tutors may be given delegated powers by the Centre for Work Related Studies team with regard to aspects of the admissions process as stated. Under all circumstances, however, the policy and procedures followed by Co-deliverer Associate Tutors with respect to admission of students will be identical to those followed by employees of the University, and the final decision regarding admissions and level of entry will rest with the Centre for Work Related Studies and the Framework Leader, acting on advice from Associate Tutors and the Centre for Work Related Studies Associate Tutor Adviser as necessary.

20. REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION TO THE FRAMEWORK FOR APPRENTICESHIPS

20.1. Higher and degree level apprenticeships are programmes that combine working with part-time study. These programmes have been developed by the University in partnership with employers and professional bodies.

- Securing suitable employment (based on the skills required to complete Framework or Standard).

20.3. Applications are submitted online following confirmation of an offer of employment.

20.4. Admissions shall assess the suitability of the applicant and their predicted or confirmed grades against the entry requirements for the Apprenticeship; the Degree Apprenticeships unit shall check that the applicant meets the Education and Skills Funding Agency eligibility criteria.

20.5. All apprentices must have secured suitable employment before an offer of a place can be made.

21. APPLICATION AND ADMISSIONS TO VISITING SCHOLARS COURSE

- 21.1. The Visiting Scholars course is a non-award bearing programme. The term Visiting Scholar includes Visiting Postgraduate Research Students and other Visiting Researchers, but excludes research students visiting the University as part of a formal exchange agreement (such as Erasmus), researchers who hold an honorary title (such as Visiting Professor, Visiting Research Fellow, or Visiting Research Associate) of the University, and any researchers visiting as part of a research grant held by the University of Chester. The following refers to Visiting Postgraduate Research Students.
- 21.2. Applicants to the Visiting Scholars (Students) course shall normally hold qualifications at least equivalent to those expected of applicants to the research degrees programme. For example, at least an upper second class honours degree (or lower second class honours degree with a Masters degree) in a discipline that is appropriate to their intended area of research, or substantial prior research experience, and where English is not their first language an English language qualification (such as IELTS 6.5).
- 21.3. Application forms may be obtained from Postgraduate Admissions, who will refer the applicant to the appropriate academic department in order to establish whether appropriate expertise exists within the University to supervise the proposed project.
- 21.4. Interviews may be held at the discretion of the Head of the academic department, and a record forwarded to Postgraduate Admissions.
- 21.5. Applicants must state on the application form the nature and scope of the research they propose to undertake whilst at the University of Chester (and any resources required), and also include details of how this research will fit within a wider programme of research. For example, for a visiting scholar who is registered on a research degree programme at another institution, the details of their whole programme of research and their progress to date.
- 21.6. The completed application form shall be sent to Postgraduate Admissions, along with one letter of recommendation (normally from their employing or registering institution), a letter of support from the academic department at Chester in which they will be based (which should also set out the proposed supervisory arrangements), an up-to-date CV, copies of appropriate certificates or transcripts and copies of any appropriate funding arrangements.

- 21.7. Offer letters shall be prepared by Postgraduate Admissions. The offer letter will detail the terms of registration, supervisory arrangements, and fees. If the decision is to reject the application, Postgraduate Admissions shall inform the student of this decision in writing together with the reasons for the rejection.
- 21.8. Offers to overseas applicants shall be copied to the International Centre.
- 21.9. International students proposing to visit for up to six months may need a Student Visitor visa and those staying six months or longer may need a Student visa. Applicants requiring a Student visa shall apply under the Tier 4 arrangements and this aspect of the application will be treated in the same manner as students applying to study on award bearing programmes.
- 21.10. All applicants respond to offers online. Those wishing to accept the offer must complete the online enrolment process. If the offer is declined, Postgraduate Admissions shall inform the prospective supervisor.
- 21.11 If a Visiting Scholar subsequently decides to apply to the University of Chester to be admitted to an award-bearing programme, the normal application procedures for that programme will apply.

22. VISITING STUDENTS

22.1. A visiting student may study at the University without being a candidate for a University award, and without being admitted to an approved programme, pathway or course of study. However, the student may be permitted, retrospectively, to seek to gain specific credit points for modules successfully completed as a visiting student, or may transfer such credits to a programme, pathway or course of study leading to a University award. Different arrangements apply to visiting postgraduate research students due to the individual nature of their research programme. See the section on research degree programmes for details.

23. DISCLOSURE AND BARRING SERVICE (DBS)

- 23.1. The Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS) (formerly the Criminal Records Bureau and the Independent Safeguarding Authority) is an executive agency of the Home Office, and provides access to records held by the police, the Department of Health and the Department for Education and Skills, to enable employers and educational establishments to better identify applicants who may be unsuitable for work that involves contact with children or with other vulnerable members of society.
- 23.2. Each Admissions Section within the University is required to notify all applicants, whose programme of study involves working with vulnerable members of society, of the DBS process. It is the responsibility of the Institutional Compliance Officer to ensure that all DBS checks for relevant programmes are requested and received.
- 23.3. Any matters revealed by the DBS shall be passed to Heads of Department or programme leaders, and may affect the University's offer of a place to the applicant. While a past conviction will not automatically preclude an applicant from commencing a programme of study, the University shall reserve the right to withdraw the offer of a place to an applicant who has received an unfavourable DBS report.
- 23.4. Leaders of programmes requiring DBS clearance for applicants shall be required to notify the Senior Assistant Registrar Undergraduate Admissions, the Senior Assistant Registrar Health & Social Care Admissions and the Postgraduate Admissions Manager, of clearance requirements as soon as the programme is validated.
- 23.5. A list of programmes requiring DBS clearance may be obtained from the Senior Assistant Registrar Undergraduate Admissions, the Senior Assistant Registrar Health & Social Care Admissions and the Postgraduate Admissions Manager, or the Institutional Compliance Officer, who is responsible for maintaining an up-to-date record of such programmes.

24. STUDENTS DECLARING A DISABILITY

24.1. Applications shall be considered on the same academic grounds as non-disabled applicants and there is no judgement or assessment of disability prior to an offer being made.

With the exception of those disclosing code G, on receipt of an offer from the University, applicants shall be required to complete and return a questionnaire in order for the University to determine what adjustments may be necessary, should they be accepted and placed on their chosen course. Those who disclose code G are advised to contact Disability & Inclusion or visit the University website for information about available reasonable adjustments.

Where information provided indicates that the applicant shall require significant support or require modifications to the academic course, the applicant shall be invited to meet members of staff from Disability & Inclusion and relevant members of staff from the academic department to discuss the applicant's individual needs.

In a very small number of cases where adjustments may not be feasible to implement, or where there are fitness to practise concerns, advice shall be obtained by Disability & Inclusion from the Department, the University's Occupational Health team and appropriate disability organisations to ensure every reasonable effort is made to support the student in taking up their offer on their chosen course. Following discussions, staff from Disability & Inclusion and the Department shall offer to meet with the applicant to discuss the support available, to enable them to make an informed judgement on the suitability of the course. In the exceptional and unlikely event where fitness to practise issues remain a concern or adjustments cannot be implemented, the University reserves the right to withdraw an offer. Applicants who wish to appeal a decision not to implement adjustments requested which prevents the applicant from taking up their offer of a place on a course may write to the Director of Student Services/Head of Admission to request a review of the decision.

25. PROFICIENCY IN ENGLISH

- 25.1. Applicants whose first language is not English are required to demonstrate an approved level of proficiency in the use of the English language. For undergraduate students, this would normally take the form of IELTS 6.0 (with no less than 5.5 in any band) or equivalent qualification.
- 25.2. For the majority of postgraduate courses, applicants would normally be expected to achieve IELTS 6.5 (with no less than 5.5 in any band) or equivalent qualification. For DProf Counselling, DBA, MSc Applied Psychology, Physician Associate Studies, Nutrition and Dietetics, and professional Nursing programmes, applicants would normally be expected to achieve IELTS 7.0 (with no less than 6.0 in any band) or equivalent qualification.
