

Research Seminar Series 2022–23

Talks are on Thursdays, are free, and are open to all (with or without any connections to the University). Most sessions run from 6:00pm to around 7:30pm, online on MS Teams.

To book, simply email the Director of the IGS, Professor Emma Rees: e.rees@chester.ac.uk. She will forward a link to you so that you can join the events you specify.

20th October 2022	Book Launch! The Routledge Companion to Gender, Sexuality, and Culture Contributors to a major new reference work (edited by the Director of the Institute of Gender Studies) share their research
17th November 2022 9:00am GMT (please note time)	Professor Raewyn Connell (Professor Emerita, Sociology, University of Sydney) Gender in the Real World Raewyn will be introduced by IGS PhD student Gill Badrock
15th December 2022	Sofia Doyle (Politics, University of Manchester) Staff-Student Sexual Violence and the Everyday Politics of Insecurity in UK Universities Sofia will be introduced by IGS PhD student Jo Gardner
19th January 2023	Professor Sally Hines (Sociology, University of Sheffield) Gender Fluidity: Progress and Pushbacks in the UK Today Sally will be introduced by IGS PhD student Kate Cornforth
9th February 2023	Dr Victoria Bateman (Fellow in Economics, University of Cambridge) Feminism and the Cult of Female Modesty Victoria will be introduced by IGS PhD student Holly Royle

In March 2023 the Institute of Gender Studies will once again be working with the University's annual Diversity Festival to bring you some really exciting events – watch this space!

27th April 2023	Xintong Jia (Sociology, City, University of London) Selling Female Empowerment: International Brands and Postfeminist Sentiments in Post-Socialist China
25th May 2023	Students enrolled on the MRes in Gender Studies, 2022-23 Institute of Gender Studies: Student Showcase
12th-16th June 2023	Talking Bodies: Tenth Anniversary Gathering This interdisciplinary, international conference on gender, sexuality, and representation will be held (largely) in person in Chester. Please ask us for more details. Registration fees apply.